PLAUDIT THE BEST.

When Plaudit defeated Lieber Karl for the Kentucky Derby he was in receipt of five pounds from the latter, and was guided by the strongest and most experienced jockey. With these important factors in his favor he only won by a long neck at the end of a long-sustained and fierce drive down the length of the home stretch. Under the circumstances it appeared altogether probable that, in view of the fact Plaudit had to take up ten pounds more in the Clark Stakes, Lieber Karl would reverse the Derby result in the latter event. Yet Plaudit won again.

Lieber Karl is a good three year old. In the light thrown on their relative merits by yesterday's race it is demonstrated that Plaudit is a better three year old. That is all there is to say about the matter. They are both apparently many pounds better than any horses of their age that have as yet appeared in the west. So far as can now be seen Bannockburn is the only one possibly able to challenge the supremacy of either.

IN AND OUT RUNNING.

Men who go to the races solely to bet, who view a noble diversion only through the gambler's eye, anathematize variations in what is dubbed the "form" of horses. Yet nothing is clearer than the certainty that if horses always ran to their highest demonstrated measure of capacity, there would be very little to bet about in horse racing. In a recent number of the San Francisco Breeder and Sportsman, the veteran turf writer, Joseph Cairn Simpson, discusses this phase of racing in the following well considered terms:

"Inconsistent running," 'in-and-out racing' are both the charm and the bane of racing. The 'glorious uncertainty' is the great promoter of the sport, and if the capacity of racehorses could be absolutely gauged, there would be little interest after the first meeting of the horses.

"As it is the victor of one, or many races, may take an inferior position, and then the question, why does he not come up to his previous form? is one of the many questions propounded.

"Racing capacity is a complication of qualities. Physical energy is one thing, mental requirements another. The first means that muscles are toned to the time, mental qualifications have still more bearing, that while the physical part of the machinery is all that could be required, should the mental not correspond to the physical there will be failure.

"Nerve power, 'odic' force, will determination, resolution to overcome relaxing muscles and reeling brain, are by far the most potent qualities in the composition of a racehorse. However well endowed a horse may be in the qualities which are usually termed 'game,' there are times when there will be failure. The bravest men have exhibited cowardice occasionally, and any one who has paid attention to his change of feelings will recognize that there are times when he could not exert the force he had heretofore possessed.

"A horse which has 'romped' away in front won 'hands down,' with so much ease that it would seem that many seconds could have been taken off the recorded time, is beaten in slower time and by inferior animals.

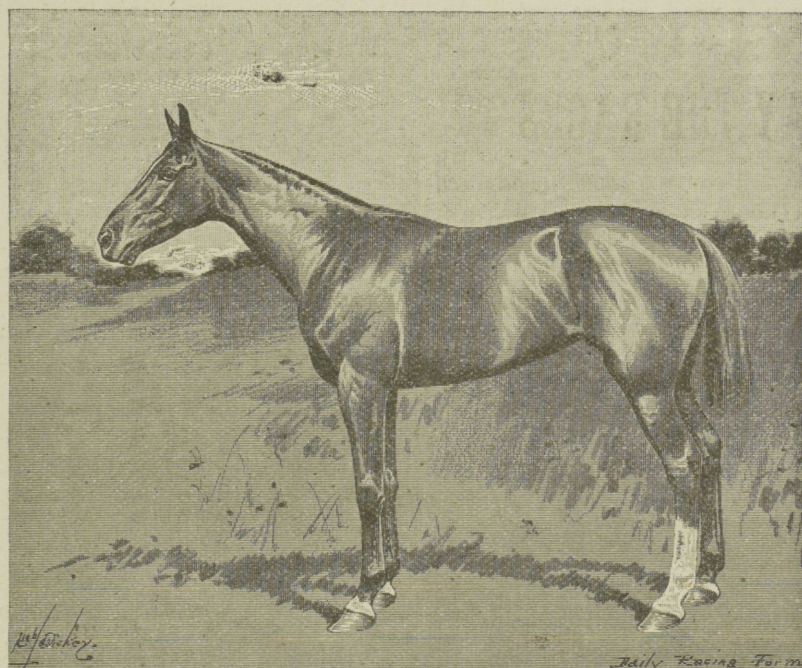

"La Fleche, one of the great racehorses of her day, won the One Thousand Guineas, and that so easily that she was favorite for the Derby at the short odds of 11 to 10. Sir Hugo, at 40 to 1, beat her, and the loss of the race was ascribed to her jockey waiting too long. In the St. Leger, she beat Sir Hugo a couple of lengths in a canter, and as she won The Oaks as well as the One Thousand Guineas, her defeat was, to say the least, unexpected. No one thought of charging fraud. A fortunate turn of luck for Sir Hugo which entitled him to wear the 'blue ribbon of the turf,' for 1892, and another one of the many instances of the 'glorious uncertainty' lent a glamour to racing.

"In these betting days, whatever has a tendency to winning money, that is odds, whether long or short, seems to be the standpoint from which the judges take their cue. A good cue when other circumstances support the evidence which the betting discloses. Speculation on anything which brings up diversions of opinion is the poorest kind of a barometer. The mercury will rise and fall with the changes of atmospherical pressure. Absolute, whatever the gauge shows, that must be accepted as the prevailing weight of the density of the atmosphere. The fiat must be received as uncontrovertible. Mercury, so high and so low, is followed, once, many times, by the prognostications being correct, and, when they differ, it must be ascribed to something in the atmosphere, some things, contradistinct, to the usual state of racing affairs.

"An intricate question. In all the reflections on the Derby of 1892 not one hinted that La Fleche was purposely beaten. Scarcely necessary to state that, notwithstanding the short odds, more was to be gained by winning than losing. Not one of the youngsters that had not been beaten or was afterwards beaten. Buena Ventura won her first two races, and then when she had been beaten came again and won three races from January 1st to March 17th, and Formero captured four. When these cracks were beaten it would hardly be just to ascribe their defeat to premeditation. Simply this, that colts and fillies which had got off or had lost some of their winning form, while others had gained under the discipline of their trainers.

"Inconsistent running. The charm and the bane of racing! People who are fully conversant with racing, trainers especially, will recognize that until a race has been run nothing can be told of the condition of the horses. Race-goers are prone to build their calculations on what they have seen, never thinking of the changes in form which are sure to come."

ORNAMENT, CH. C. 4, BY ORDER—VICTORINE.

"In our racing here the most trouble has come from the two-year-old performers. A few people claim that two-year-olds are the most consistent of all racehorses. Never so futile an argument. Just as well to expect that a pupil of kindergartens, or primary schools, would stand an equal chance with college graduates when the test was scholarship, as to think that the babies in racing are the compeers of those which had participated in many campaigns.

"As stated before, the youngsters have occasioned more than their share of trouble. One wins today and another tomorrow.

"Looking over the history of these youngsters from the opening of the season, January 1, to the time when thirty-five races had been run, never a winner that had not been defeated. Buena Ventura won three races, Formero four, and each of them were so far back in the races they were defeated that it would seem that something more than a loss of nerve or muscular force was required to account for their defeat.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

The Jockey Club announces that Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday will be the racing days on the tracks under its control. The exceptions will be when holidays fall on other days than Sunday.

The Pacific Coast Jockey Club has given away $700,000 in purses and stakes during the past season. This club has about decided to give no purses of less than $400 next season.

Ab Stemler has sold the fast mare Scotch Rose to a party who intends racing her in Montana this year.

Donald Cameron has bred Plumeria, sister to the speedy May W, to Salvation.

DR. SHEPPARD'S GOOD RACE.

Foster Bros.' handsome Buchanan—Vulture colt, Dr. Sheppard, won the mile and seventy yards race at Lakeside yesterday in a leisurely way and knocked a half second off the Indiana record, which was 1:46. He was ridden by Bloss and was started mainly for a work-out about the Inaugural which is run at St. Louis next Saturday. The big colt carried 109 pounds. The track was not at its best and a strong wind was blowing. Sheppard stepped the first mile in 1:41. He is at his best just now and a majority of the horsemen at the track think he has a royal chance in Saturday's St. Louis event with 115 pounds up. Bloss will go there to ride him.

Eugene Leigh won a lot of money over the victory of his Hindoo—Pretence colt, Hadrian. The youngster was in a soft spot and the ring made him a 1 to 2 shot. It was a good price. Turner got Hadrian off in second place and sent him to the front at once. He lingered there. Previous to this race Leigh and his confreres had had trouble. They played Duke of Haven at even money to beat Enchanter, Marito and a fast lot. The Duke was all tangled up at the start and couldn't get into contention. Marito, at 8 to 1, won, with Enchanter in the place.

Sergeant Roller drew his first purse at the meeting after the second race. His consistent colt Mouzeltoff was a 6 to 1 chance and nicely ridden by Kitley won a pretty race from Primavera and Eva Wilson.

The initial mile dash furnished the only sensational finish of the day. Cynthia H was a 2 to 1 favorite, and just lasted long enough to "nose out" the "good thing," Croesus.

For the closing race old Sulross was a 6 to 5 chance. He was never able to get anywhere near the van. The winner turned up in Connie Lee, who was at some stages of the betting as good as 50 to 1.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

Race-goers and lovers of good horses generally will greatly regret to learn that the crack race mare Fleur de Lis, by Maxim—Fleurette, may never again face the starter. Ab Stemler had all arrangements made to ship the mare east the latter part of this week, but she pulled up lame after being cantered, and looked to be irretrievably broken down. Her previous good leg appears to be ruptured, and Stemler is naturally very much worried over his stroke of bad luck. When Fleur de Lis was right on edge she showed herself to be a mare of class, and gave promise of developing into another Firenze. She is closely related to the latter, being out of a full sister to that famous mare.—Breeder and Sportsman.

Glenheim, winner of the Juvenile, and the star of John E. Madden's stable, was the observed of all observers at Morris Park track Monday. His impressive victory in the first big stake of the year made turfmen pay considerable attention to the superbly bred youngster, and his perfect manners and beautiful action in the informal exercise of the morning won him a host of admirers.

Glenheim is not a Hamburg in looks at present. He lacks the range and grand conformation of this great horse, but there seems to be no question of his exceptional quality. He is a racehorse all over, and his beautiful disposition and even temper are not the least of his fine qualities.—Morning Telegraph.

Winner—B. h. 6, by Emperor of Norfolk—Winona.
Start good. First three ridden out. Midas was best today and was lucky. Had not an ounce to spare at end. Rapido would have won in a few more strides. He is fit, but was laid up too long. Was a good horse at end. Nervoso ran his race and was well ridden. Carruthers hung at finish again. McFarlane, poorly ridden, can be tabbed. Miss Ruth had little speed and Morrill less. Latter was away poorly.
Scratched—Zaraida, 102; Terra Archer, 106.

Time, 2:41, 5:0, 1:03.
Winner—Ch. c, by Iroquois—Toribera.
Start bad. Won pulling up. Owyhee was much the best, likes a route and is in fine condition. Fretter, off badly, made up ground steadily, although jostled and cut off on both turns. Is improving and due to win soon. Also Ran made up a lot of ground and ran an honest race. Fin, killed off by pacemaking, blew up in the stretch. Has no use for a route. San Augustine was badly ridden and suffered from much interference.
Scratched—Britomartis, 100.

Winner—Ch. f, 3, by Amigo—Rosebud.
Start good. Won easily; drive for third place. La Goleta was far the best. Clawson rode her beautifully and had no trouble. Zamar was just outrun. He had a clear course, was well handled and is fit. He closed strong. Watomba ran a trifle above the mark and closed resolutely after making up a lot of ground. Was not well handled. Shasta Water was short. The race will fit her for action in the near future. Sly ran below the mark. She was overweighted. Jack was cut off on first and stretch turns. Ran a good race and was eased at end. Dunboy is not near ready. Clifton was outclassed.
Scratched—Charlotte M. 90; Alvin E. 104; Tom Smith, 105.
Overweights—Shasta Water, 4 pounds.

Winner—B. c, 3, by Fonso—Savannah.
Start good. Won without trouble. Clawson drew the finish fine and should have won farther away. Fonsavannah is good and was nicely handled. Odds, well ridden, also ran an honest race and is fit. Morellito was weakly ridden and interfered with on both turns. Likes a long route best. Mistral ran to his mark under bad riding and is worth watching closely. Cromwell ran his race. Olive was outclassed.
Scratched—Thelma, 106.

Winner—B. c, 4, by Emperor of Norfolk—Jennie B.
Start fair. The first two were driving. Bernardillo was best. He wore down and beat Elsmore with something to spare. He is good, and was well ridden. Elsmore's race was above the mark. He had no bad luck. The contention was purely between the two. Recreation could not keep up. She had bad fortune, and was cut off at start and in the spread of the field on stretch turn. Bad riding caused her trouble. Rest outclassed. Luis and Cochran were not well ridden. It was a good race.
Scratched—Suscol, 86.

Winner—Ch. f, 4, by Sir Dixon—Faro Girl.
Post 5 minutes. Start fair. Won driving hard. The next three were also doing their best. Cynthia H just staggered home. She was much used on the back stretch and the effort told on her when the pinch came. Croesus should have won. He ran the best race but suffered from bad luck. He finished like a lion and was heavily played. Laius did well for three quarters. Both he and Cochise were staggering at the finish. Admetus ran a good race under a bad ride. Overweights—Treeby, 5 pounds.

Winner—B. f, by Lord Harrington—Lucetto.
Post 2 minutes. Start good. Won in a hard drive of three. Kitley rode a beautiful race on the winner. He was attending strictly to his own business all through the stretch. The filly is game, too, and seems to favor a route. Primavera weakened a trifle in the closing drive. Keep her on the tab. She was not quite fit. Eva Wilson had a lot of speed. She faltered at the head of the stretch, but came again under punishment. Nancy Seitz did not run her race. It is doubtful if, at her best, she can beat those that finished in front of her. Pella B made up a lot of ground.

Winner—B. c, 4, by Buchanan—Voline.
Off first break to a good start. Won easily after a little shaking up at the furlong pole; second and third well in hand. Dr. Sheppard was the best and is in good condition. He needs just such handling as he got to-day. The boy had a good hold of his head all the way. He wanted to stop about the eighth pole but a little urging got him to going again. Candleblack ran a cracking good race. He looks fit and favors a distance. Watch this fellow. Graziella was short. She showed some of her last year's form as far as she went. The race will condition her. Joe Shelby was a little outclassed by the first two. Harbinger can win among his own kind. Overweights—Joe Shelby, 2 pounds.

Winner—B. f, 3, by Volante—Maori.
Post 3 minutes. Start good. Won in a hard drive; the next four were driving even harder. Marito had all the luck in the race. She got away flying and always had a clear path. She wanted to stop at the head of the stretch, but came away gamely under pressure. The boy rode her well. Enchanter was unfortunate at the start. Both he and Duke of Haven were obliged to pull up as the barrier rose. Enchanter ran a good, game race. Sullivan was substituted for Roche on Enchanter at the last minute. The Duke could never get through. He about ran his race though. Watch Czarowitz. She ran above her recent notch. Alabaster had much early speed. Skillman is ready. Albert S can do better. Hermoso seems to be a coward. Scratched—Midnight, 97; Hosi, 99; Muriel T, 103; Papa Harry, 96.

Winner—B. c, by Hindoo—Preteque.
Post 4 minutes. Start fair. Won cleverly; second ridden out. Third and fourth doing their best. Hadrian was the best of a bad lot. He got a nice send off too. Arthur McKnight ran his race. He is an honest colt. Watch Dixie Dinmont. After a lot of trouble she finished game and true. Fcade did his best. Victor Sum and St. Francis have both been well tried. The others were an indifferent lot.
